CEYLON MENUS.

The Way Natives Wrestle With the English Language.

A writer in the Epicure tells of several menus with which he was confronted when traveling in Ceylon. The menu, he says, is an indispensable adjunct to a respectable luncheon or dinner table in Ceylon. As a rule, the head servant writes it out and from his elementary knowledge of English as "she is wrote" springs a host of quaint blunders. At the same time his fertile oriental brain is ever apt to add footnotes, which are perhaps his happiest achievement.

At one lunch there figured among the dishes "roast beef," but it caused the hostess some consternation when she discovered the additional legend in very small letters, "roast beef, smelling a little," the parenthetical note being meant to intimate that the dish was accompanied by a sauce of savory odors.

On another occasion there appeared this following acknowledgment of deficiency: "Steak and kidney pie; no kidney."

It was altogether delightful, continues the writer, to find at one dinner our old friend Welsh rabbit appearing as "Welsch rubbish." The same genius translated haricot mutton into "hurrygod mutton." Our own boy, he adds, on the occasion of a hastily improvised dinner, was unable to accomplish a dessert. Consequently he put the word "plates" at the end of the menu.

A COSTLY TRIFLE.

It Brought Bankruptcy to an English Iron King.

It was a common penny postage stamp that brought Hobart, the great British "iron king," to his ruin. At the time of the Whitworth period, when there was a big crisis in the iron trade, he had agents in all parts of the world who kept him posted. Sometimes they telegraphed news to him in cipher, but those in England were nearly always instructed to write. At that period his principal agent, who was also his chief partner, was in Sheffield and wrote him from there warning him to sell out all iron interests for the time on account of the Whitworth crisis.

Hobart had frequent fits of irritability, and he had been receiving a lot of unstamped letters of no importance on which he had to pay double postage. One morning in anger he gave orders that such letters were to be returned to the postman. The very first unstamped letter received after this was from his partner. It was rejected as soon as it arrived.

Consequently, knowing nothing of the existence of the letter or the all important private news it contained, Hobart pledged himself next day for more iron deals than even his mighty credit was good for. The great drop in prices came two days later, and Hobart, once a millionaire, was involved in a hopeless bankruptcy from which he never recovered.—London Telegraph.

Pillsbury's Wonderful Memory.

Harry N. Pillsbury, the chess player, offered one day in South Bethlehem, Pa., to memorize thirty words, no matter how hard they might be, the selections to be read to him only once.

Professor Merriman of Lehigh university and Dr. Threlkeld-Edwards of Bethlehem picked out most of the following words: Antiphlogistine, periosteum, takadiastase, plasmon, ambrosia, Threlkeld, streptococcus, staphelococcus, micrococcus, plasmodium, Mississippi, Freiheit, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, athletics, no war, Eichenberg, American, Russia, philosopher, Piet-Potgieters-Rost, Salmagundi, Oomsillecootsi, Bahgmamvato, Schlochter's Nek, Manzinyama, theosophy, catechism, Madjesoomslopa.

Mr. Pillsbury immediately repeated these words in the order given and in the reverse order.

A Cockney.

Minshen, a dictionary maker of London, in 1617 issued a work which gave the following amusing account of the origin of the word "cockney:" "A cockney, or cockny, applied only to one born within the sound of the Bow bells—that is, within the city of London—whiche terme came first out of the following tale:

"A citizen's sonne, riding with his father out of London into the country and being a novice and merely ignorant of how corne and cattel do increase, asked when he heard a horse neigh what the horse dide. His father answered, 'The horse dothe neigh.' Riding further, he heard a cock crow and said, 'Dothe the cock neigh too?' And therefore cockney, or cockneigh, by inversion thus: Incoctus—i. e., raw or unripe in countrey-mens affaires."

Italian Brigandage In 1848.

One summer evening in the crowded theater an impatient house demanded the drawing of the curtain preliminary to the first act. When at last it was upraised Il Passatore and his armed band occupied the stage, with muskets aimed at the affrighted audience. The chief stated that he should levy a tax per head, which he then and there collected. The gang made off with their booty unmolested.—Lady Presturch's "Essays."

Depressed.

"I am afraid Bliggins has met with reverses."

"What makes you think so?"

"He goes about with a gloomy look, saying there is no such a thing as disinterested friendship. That is almost a sure sign that a man has been trying to borrow money."—Exchange.

ADMISSION - TEN CENTS

More Than One Way.

The caller, a man whom he had known in the old town back in Pennsylvania, had dropped in to talk old times with the busy lawyer, and the lawyer had endured it patiently for an hour and a half. Then, unseen by the caller, he pushed a small knob at the end of his desk, and a bell rang in the adjoining room.

"Excuse me a moment, Mr. Hockensplutter," he said, stepping into the other room and proceeding to hold this one sided conversation over an imaginary telephone:

"Hello!"

"— — — —."

"Yes."

"No, Bertha, I'll not have time to come home for dinner. It's already 4:30, and I have several hours' work yet to do. I am very busy and have been detained."

"— — — —."

"Yes. Goodby!"

Then he went back to his desk. But Mr. Hockensplutter had already risen to go.—Chicago Tribune.

That Genius Whistler.

Of Whistler Lady St. Helier in "Memories of Fifty Years" writes thus: "He was a genius and had all the defects and qualities of one. To him everything was a joke, the subject of a bonmot. The lightest and daintiest of persiflage was what he excelled in, and one never had a dull moment in his company. He was always late for dinner, arranging the immortal lock of gray hair in its proper place as he came into the room, with apologies and excuses, none of them true—of which he was perfectly conscious and also of the fact that his host and hostess knew that they were not. Wherever he was there would be a circle listening to him, and his ringing laugh would be heard all over the room as he sent his shafts right and left into the joints of the armor of those who were attacking him. It was a great surprise and almost a shock when he appeared as a benedict."

How Eskimos Measure Time.

Writing of the Eskimo methods of measuring time in a region of six months day or night, Harry Whitney in Outing says:

"The Eskimo divides his periods into 'sleeps,' but a sleep does not designate by any means the civilized measure of day and night. It is, in fact, a very uncertain term. Often we traveled from twenty to thirty hours without rest. Now there was no night, and I so far lost count of time that I was not at all certain of dates. Our single marches with the succeeding 'sleep not infrequently covered a full forty-eight hours, or two ordinary days. The object of these extended marches was to take advantage of good weather and general conditions or because no safe or convenient camping place presented itself in the interim."

Two of a Kind.

There is something about the character of mules that makes their owners at times almost equally stubborn. In the Washington Star this dialogue concerning one if not two such animals is reported:

"Why don't you get rid of that mule?"

"Well, suh," answered Erastus Pinkley, "I hates to give in. If I was to trade that mule off he'd regard it as a personal victory. He's been tryin' roh de las' six weeks to get rid o' me."

Her Husbands.

It is said that before a man has discovered the color of a girl's eyes she is planning her trousseau and leading him to the altar but

The bachelor girls' destination necessitated their going through Woodlawn cemetery, a portion of the city they had never before visited. They stopped for a long time on the bridge which crosses the lake to admire the wonderfully well kept banks, which slope down to the edge of the lake, with here and there some artistically arranged shrubbery serving as a background. As they cast a last look at the island, situated at one end of the lake, which is so tiny one wonders how the large willow tree standing at the water's edge, with its drooping branches hanging so low that they sweep backward and forward in the water with the wind, could possibly have grown there, one of the bachelor girls was heard to remark to her companion, "Wouldn't this be an ideal place to bury one's husbands and come and weep over their graves!"—New York Press.

Minstrelsy In Bostonese.

"Mistah Howjames, may I ahsk yo' to point out de distinction 'tween a Roman stoic philosophah an' a metrical narration in lofty an impressive style of some great historical event, de same being a paht of de scholastic co'se prescribed in our institutions of learning?"

"No, Mr. Ticklowell; I confess my inability to discern the points of differentiation. Will you set forth categorically the reason or reasons why a Roman stoic philosopher should not be confounded with a lofty and impressive metrical narrative of some great historical, mythological or imaginary event, legend or tradition, et cetera?"

"Yes, suh; de one am Epictetus, an' de uddah am an epic taught us."

"Ladies and gentlemen, I have the pleasure of announcing that the renowned scholar and essayist, Professor Wendell Osgoodson, will recite at this stage of the proceedings his celebrated monologue on 'The Apotheosis of the Ephemeral.'"—Chicago Tribune.

Two Battles.

Porfirio Diaz gained national prominence and won his spurs at the battle of Puebla, where the Liberal forces made a gallant but ineffectual stand against the French, who had invaded Mexico for the purpose of erecting a throne for Maximilian. Notwithstanding the fact that the Mexican forces were defeated, their defense against superior numbers was so gallant that the anniversary of the battle of the 5th of May became a national holiday in Mexico.

A brusque American once asked Diaz, "Why do you Mexicans celebrate a defeat when you know that the French took Puebla?"

President Diaz, with a twinkle in his eye, replied, "Perhaps we have imitated the Americans even to the extent of celebrating our defeats, for I have been told that the British defeated the colonists at Bunker Hill, and yet you built a monument to commemorate the event."

VERY FINE BIRDS.

His Wife's Comment on the Result of His Hunting Trip.

The braggadocio of the common variety of husbands generally sooner or later falls before the keen insight that most women have of human nature in general and bragging husbands in particular. A witty southern woman was married to such a man, who, though invariably unsuccessful as a hunter, was continually boasting of his killings.

As he was returning home one evening after an all day hunting trip it occurred to him that the usual accompaniment of an empty game bag was not in accordance with his oft boasted skill as a hunter and that his wife would again have the joke on him, so he went to the market and purchased two brace of partridges.

As he entered the house he threw them on the table with great eclat and exclaimed, "Well, you dear old doubter, you see that I am handier with the gun than you give me credit for being, after all; now don't you?"

Milady picked up the birds and examined them very carefully. As she looked up after the examination he said:

"Fine birds, my dear—very fine birds, are they not?"

"Robert," responded the wife, turning up her nose, "you were only just in time in shooting those birds today. Tomorrow it would have been everlastingly too late."—St. Louis Republic.

EATING AN APPLE.

What You Take Into Your System With the Fruit.

"Do you know what you're eating?" said the doctor to the girl.

"An apple, of course."

"You are eating," said the doctor, "albumen, sugar, gum, malic acid, gallic acid, fiber, water and phosphorus."

"I hope those things are good. They sound alarming."

"Nothing could be better. You ate, I observed, rather too much meat at dinner. The malic acid of apples neutralizes the excess of chalky matter caused by too much meat and thereby helps to keep you young. Apples are good for your complexion. Their acids drive out the noxious matters which cause skin eruptions. They are good for your brain, which those same noxious matters if retained render sluggish. Moreover, the acids of the apple diminish the acidity of the stomach that comes with some forms of indigestion. The phosphorus, of which apples contain a larger percentage than any other fruit or vegetable, renews the essential nervous matter of the brain and spinal column. Oh, the ancients were not wrong when they esteemed the apple the food of the gods—the magic renewer of youth to which the gods resorted when they felt themselves growing old and feeble. I think I'll have an apple," concluded the doctor."—New York Tribune.

Strange Lapse of Memory.

Cases of forgetfulness on matters of interest are on record. While Dr. Priestly was preparing his work entitled "Harmony of the Gospels" he had taken great pains to inform himself on a subject which had been under discussion relative to the Jewish Passover. He wrote out the result of his researches and laid the paper away. His attention and time being taken with something else, some little time elapsed before the subject occurred to his mind again. Then the same time and pains were given to the subject that had been given to it before, and the results were again put on paper and laid aside. So completely had he forgotten that he had copied the same paragraphs and reflections before that it was only when he had found the papers on which he had transcribed them that it was recalled to his recollection. This same author had frequently read his own published writings and did not recognize them.

A Question For the King.

Divinity doth not always hedge a king. There have been many rulers who could take as well as give in the joking line. The most striking instance of this kind is seen in the case of Charles II., that good natured Stuart, who once asked his chaplain, Dr. Stillingfleet:

"How is it that you always read your sermons before me when, as I understand, you can preach eloquently enough elsewhere without book or notes?"

The good doctor answered that he was so overwhelmed by his majesty's presence that he could not trust himself otherwise, continuing, "And now, sire, may it please you to tell me why you read your speeches when you have no such excuse?"—St. Louis Republic.

Her Own Coin.

There was quite a scene the other night at a certain bridge party. A loser paid a lady with her own I. O. U.'s. The lady said it was most ungentlemanly. She said she wouldn't have minded being paid back in her own coin, but she disliked paper money.—Exchange.

"Yes, it's hard to find the new tricks," added the simple mug.—Philadelphia Record.

Forthcoming High School Election.

On Friday, April 1st, an election for five High School Trustees will be held in the various school houses of the territory embraced in the Sonoma Valley Union High School district. These Trustees are to take the places of the nine now in office, in order to comply with an Act passed at the last session of the Legislature, which retires this month every High School Trustee in the State in order that a new deal be made.

The importance of this election should not be overlooked in the wild scramble for office in the approaching municipal, county and State elections. To our way of thinking it is the most important of them all, as much depends upon the future usefulness of our High Schools in the selection of the Trustees to govern them.

Here in our own valley these Trustees may be chosen from any one of the nine districts comprising the union, and they should be men who are willing to give their time and talents to the betterment of higher educational facilities right at home—men without personal or political axes to grind. There are many such in this valley and it is our hope that the incoming Board of High School Trustees will be composed of the very best citizenship. The future of Sonoma Valley's principal institute of learning demands this.

CHILD SWALLOWS POISON MAY DIE.

Little Two-Year Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. Schnitzer the Victim.

Willie, the two-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Schnitzer of Schellville, secured a bottle of mebrane flea poison, yesterday morning, and swallowed a large quantity of the deadly drug. The child was at once brought to Dr. Leix's sanitorium for treatment and when taken in hand by the doctor was all but dead. Emetics were administered, but it is a problem as to whether the little fellow will survive or not. The poison swallowed by the child is one of the most deadly known.

Gill P. Hall Has Exciting Street Encounter.

Attorney Gill P. Hall of Petaluma and Bert Anderson, who was recently his partner in the undertaking business in that city, had an exciting encounter on the public streets Thursday afternoon. The Courier give the following particulars of the affray:

"Hall met Anderson on upper Main street, almost in front of the Scott Co.'s store. Anderson asked Hall some questions, which Hall resented. Anderson claims that Hall told him that he 'would drive him out of town, a tramp before he got through with him,' and made a move as if to reach for a gun. Almost immediately Anderson struck him. Hall thereupon pulled a gun and aimed at Anderson who knocked it aside just as it went off. Anderson then struck Hall in the face, and the force of the blow felled Attorney Hall.

Anderson wrenched the gun from the hands of Hall and followed up his attack by administering a severe hammering on the latter's face as he lay prostrate on the sidewalk directly in front of the Scott Hardware store. Bystanders rushed in and pulled Anderson away and Hall was taken into the hardware store bleeding profusely. A few minutes later he was taken into Evan's barber shop and washed up and taken in a cab to Judge Dillon's office.

Hall swore out a warrant for the arrest of Anderson on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon, claiming that Anderson had used brass knuckles on his face. Anderson states positively that he used only his bare knuckles and when searched by Marshal Husler no weapons were found on him.

Anderson escaped without injuries. He was placed under arrest and taken to the Marshal's office where he was released on bail. He will probably have a hearing later.

The shooting caused great excitement and a large crowd gathered to learn the details. It was at first reported that Attorney Hall had been shot and that Anderson was wounded, and many conflicting stories were in circulation.

Hall's injures are not serious, and he will no doubt be about as usual tomorrow.

The contract for building a handsome bungelow for Mrs. R. J. Snyder on the Sears ranch two miles southwest of town, has been let to A. E. Warriner, the contractor and builder of this city.

ACCIDENT AT THE FOSTER QUARRIES.

Point of Drill Enters Man's Arm and He Nearly Bleeds to Death

Capri Secondino, a quarryman employed in the Foster quarries at Fairville, was brought to the Leix sanitarium Thursday afternoon for surgical treatment. While using a steel drill the point broke off when struck a sharp blow with a sledge hammer and entering the man's left forearm severed an artery. The wounded arm was rudely bandaged and when Secondino arrived at the sanitarium he was in a state of collapse from loss of blood. He is still confined to his cot in the sanitarium but will recover.

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

CITY ELECTION NEXT MONTH.

Friends of Candidates in the Prospective Have Been Busy the Past Week Circulating Petitions.

As will be seen by announcement in these columns a city election has been called to be held in the City Hall on Monday, April 11th.

Three Trustees are to be elected to fill the places of Trustees Bates, Breitenbach and Wagnon, whose terms expire next month.

A City Clerk, Treasurer and Marshal will also be voted for.

Friends of several of our townsmen have been busy the past week circulating petitions to have their names placed on the ballot and—there are others.

The election to all outward appearances bids fair at this writing to be a quiet one, but then one can never tell. For one thing certain, these local elections in Sonoma have not always been love feasts in the past. On the contrary, they have been bitterly contested and just why, no one seems to know. It is the Sonoma way and that is all there is to it.

This year, however, bids fair to be an exception to the rule. True a few troublesome spirits in the town months ago began to prepare for trouble by endeavoring to make an issue of the sewer question, but as Mayor Breitenbach and the rest of the City Trustees and most every one else in Sonoma for that matter is in favor of the proposition, their efforts have signally failed. It is a month yet, however, before election and the mischief-makers and the and busybodies who usually precipitate these local conflicts have yet to be reckoned with and it may be a red hot affair after all.

LAD FALLS AND FRACTURES SKULL.

Discovered at Foot of Elevated Watering Tank in Unconscious Condition.

Edmond Debats, the thirteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Debats of El Verano, met with a serious accident late Monday afternoon.

With another lad he was observed climbing to the top of the elevated tank used for road sprinkling purposes opposite the Mathewson place near Verano station, and was warned of the danger of the undertaking.

Sometime after while Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bates were passing along the road they discovered the lad lying at the foot of the tank in an unconscious condition.

After summoning the father of the injured boy Mr. Bates assisted in taking him to his home. Dr. Leix was then telephoned for and upon reaching the bedside of the unconscious lad discovered that his skull was fractured on the left side, the fracture extending a distance of six inches from the frontal bone back of the left ear.

The injury, although a dangerous one, is not necessarily fatal and the doctor expects to pull the boy through all right if no unforseen complications set in.

No sense in running from one doctor to another! Select the best one, then stand by him. No sense either in trying this thing, that thing, for your cough. Carefully, deliberately select the best cough medicine, then take it. Stick to it. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for throat and lung troubles. Sold for nearly seventy years. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Why try this thing, that thing, for your constipation? Why not stick to the good old reliable family laxative—Ayer's Pills. Ask your doctor if he approves this advice.

A SONOMA BOY IN THE PHILIPPINES

Deme Gordenker Writes About the Government in the Islands.

Deme Gordenker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordenker of Glen Ellen and a graduate of our High School and the State University, who has been in the Philippine Islands ever since the close of the Spanish-American war, among other things writes as follows from Tacloban, P. I., under date of January 13th:

"The Provincial Treasurer is the real ruler of the province. On his judgment and energy depend not only the Provincial finances, but every branch of municipal and provincial administration. In order to give one an idea of how the government is organized out here I will state that in the first place the municipality is the unit of government. This is made up of a number of little villages, one of which is the seat of government, something like our counties at home. An average municipality, though, is smaller than our California counties, having a population of only seven or eight thousand people. The municipality has a Board of Councilmen and a municipal President. A deputy of the Provincial Treasurer acts as municipal Treasurer, and collects taxes and makes all necessary payments. The council and President are elected by the people, but the municipal Treasurer is appointed by the Provincial Treasurer.

A number of towns are grouped together to make a province. This province consists of all the municipalities on the island of Leyte. It has a total population of about 400,000 people. The Provincial Government is partly elected and partly appointed by the Governor-General. The legislative power of the Provincial government is vested in the Provincial Board, which consists of the Provincial Governor, the Provincial Treasurer and a third member. These and the third member are elected by the people. The Provincial Treasurer is appointed, (as is also the Fiscal Prosecuting Attorney) and the Judge of the Court. The Provincial Treasurer has absolute power over the municipal finances, and is the disbursing officer of the province. The collections of this province for the past year were about one million pesos. About a half of that was spent for the construction of roads and bridges, and the remainder for various buildings, machinery, etc.

I am now the Provincial Cashier. In the absence of the Provincial Treasurer I am in charge of the office, but do not sit on the Provincial Board. My work is very confining as I sit in an iron cage all day. Of course I am learning a good many things about the work of the Treasurer and some day—I hope not a very distant day—I will be sent to some other smaller province as Acting Treasurer. Then if my work is satisfactory I will be made Treasurer, and then, but not until then, will I come home once more."

SONOMA BREWING COMPANY IS STILL RUSHING THINGS

Buildings Nearing Completion—The Ice and Cold Storage Machinery to be Installed Next Week.

The stone and reinforced concrete building to house the lager beer, ice, cold storage and creamery plants of the Sonoma Brewing Company, Inc., is rapidly nearing completion.

The concrete floors of the building are now ready for the installtion of the big ice plant, and the Vulcan Iron Works of San Francisco is under contract to commence setting up the machinery on the 15th of this month and to to have it in operation early in April.

When the ice and lager beer plants are in working order the company will take up the creamery proposition, which is one of the most important of the many industries which the company will engage in.

The Sonoma Brewing Company, which is composed and backed by local people who desire to see Sonoma and its beautiful valley grow and prosper, has made remarkable progress since being incorporated less than two months ago. Ground was broken on Januaay 15th, since which time the building has been nearly completed and the machinery contracted for.

Next week a side track will be put in alongside the brewery by the Northwestern Pacific railroad to afford the corporation the best possible shipping facilities.

No detail has been overlooked and it is expected to have the plant in operation in April.

The School Census.

The taking of the school census will begin on the 15th day of April by census marshals appointed by Boards of School Trustees, on or before April 1. The census must be taken as it is on the fifteenth day of April. The complete report must be handed to the county superintendent on or before the 10th day of May.

The law provides that census marshals must visit every home and ask questions called for on the official census blank, duly noting the answers. The law now provides that after enumerating the children of the family, the person giving in the census to the marshal must sign a certificate stating that the items and data given are correct. Any one who fails thus to sign the certificaie is held under the new law to be guilty of a misdemeanor and may be punished by a fine not exceeding $100.

Sonoma Won.

The game of basket ball played in Union Hall on Saturday afternoon of last week was very exciting. It was between the boys of the Sonoma Grammar School and those of the Burbank Grammar School of Santa Rosa. Both teams did excellent work and the score at the end of the game stood 20 to 26 in favor of Sonoma. This was the first game played this season by our local Grammar School boys.

THE LEWIS WATER FRANCHISE GRANTED

Yulupa Water Company Bids $250 and the Board of Supervisors Allows it the Concession

The matter of the application of L. L. Lewis, President of the Yulupa Land and Water Company, for a franchise for conducting pipes and distributing water in various places in this valley, came up for consideration before the Board of Supervisors last Wednesday.

When the franchise was put up for sale by the Board, the bid of L. L. Lewis of $250 was accepted and the franchise was awarded to him without competition.

The Supervisors in disposing of the franchise secured for the taxpayers free water for sprinkling the public highways along the pipe line which will extend along the county road from the Lewis ranch via El Verano to the western boundary line of this city.

Work on the proposed new water system will be commenced this spring.

Intoxicated Marauder Frightens Family

Adam Kitz, an aged man who has lived in this valley off and on for many years, got on a beautiful jag last Saturday night and came to his senses next morning in the city jail. It happened this way. Adam after imbibing freely early in the evening lost his bearings while meandering around one of the residence districts of town and attempted to enter the home of Mrs. A. D. Lowell by the front door between one and two o'clock Sunday morning.

The inmates discovered the intruder on the front porch and sent in a telephone call to Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan, who instantly responded. When the officer arrived Adam was lighting matches and endeavoring to locate the keyhole in the front door. He was seized and hustled off to jail. The next morning as the man was only a harmless drunk he was turned loose and admonished to go and sin no more.

Will Extend its Switching Facilities at Vineburg.

The Northwestern Pacific railroad Company recently purchased from E. Forni of Vineburg a strip of land forty feet wide and 800 feet in length for switching purposes at its station in that thriving burg.

The matter of extending its switching facilities at that point came up before the Board of Supervisors Wednesday and it was decided to allow the railroad company to go ahead with the improvement upon its furnishing to the county a good and sufficient deed to the strip of land.

At Union Hall, on Saturday evening, March 19th, the Sonoma Valley Moving Picture Show will again hold forth and give an entertaining program.

SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE

Sonoma, March 12, 1910

H. H. GRANICE, Editor.

Danger of Poor Teeth.

Just what effect on the stomach is produced by the constant swallowing bacteria and pus from diseased teeth, mingled with decomposing particles of food, we are unable to determine, but it is reasonable to suppose that gastric disturbances are greatly aggravated if not induced by so doing. In every community there are those who are enthusiasts on the subject of pure air and wholesome food, but whose mouths are in such a neglected condition that the air which passes through them is almost as polluted as that of a crowded tenement, and every mouthful of food swallowed carries with it to the stomach millions of bacteria. The almost entire futility of sterilizing articles of diet for patients in whose mouth chronic abscesses exist or whose teeth are covered with tartar mixed with mucus and food in a state of decomposition need hardly be mentioned.—Boston Herald.

Four Kinds of Pupils.

The Talmud says there are four kinds of pupils—the sponge and the funnel, the strainer and the sieve. The sponge is he who taketh up everything, and the funnel is he who taketh in at this ear and letteth out at that; the strainer is he that letteth go the wine and retaineth the dross, and the sieve is he that letteth go the bran and retaineth the fine flour. The student who begins at least to wish to belong to the last named class will not have been sent to college in vain.

He Liked It.

Wife—How do you like my new hat? Husband—The idea of paying big prices for— Wife—Big prices! Why, I made it myself. Husband—Um—yes—er—as I was saying, the idea of paying big prices for such monstrosities as the milliners are showing! Now, your hat is a work of art. Looks as if it came from Paris. Beautiful, my dear!

Pin Money.

Mrs. Brideley—Reggie, dear, you know that $50 you gave me for a new hat? Mr. B.—Yes, dear. Mrs. B.—Well, I've saved the money. Mr. B.—But I see you're wearing a new hat. Mrs. B.—Yes; in order to economize, as you suggested, I kept the $50 and had the hat charged.—Lippincott's.

In Politics.

Politician — Congratulations, Sarah. I've been elected. Sarah (with delight) —Honestly? Politician—What difference does that make? — Milwaukee Journal.

Truthfulness consists less in stating true facts than in conveying a true impression.—Stevenson.
